

Week 10 — Export Output (Report File)

Goal

Export the solution trail as a report file for documentation/audit.

Required Outputs

- ☐ Export feature implemented (TXT or HTML)
- ☐ Export includes GIVEN/METHOD/STEPS/FINAL/VERIFICATION/SUMMARY
- ☐ At least 2 exported reports attached

Evidence to Attach

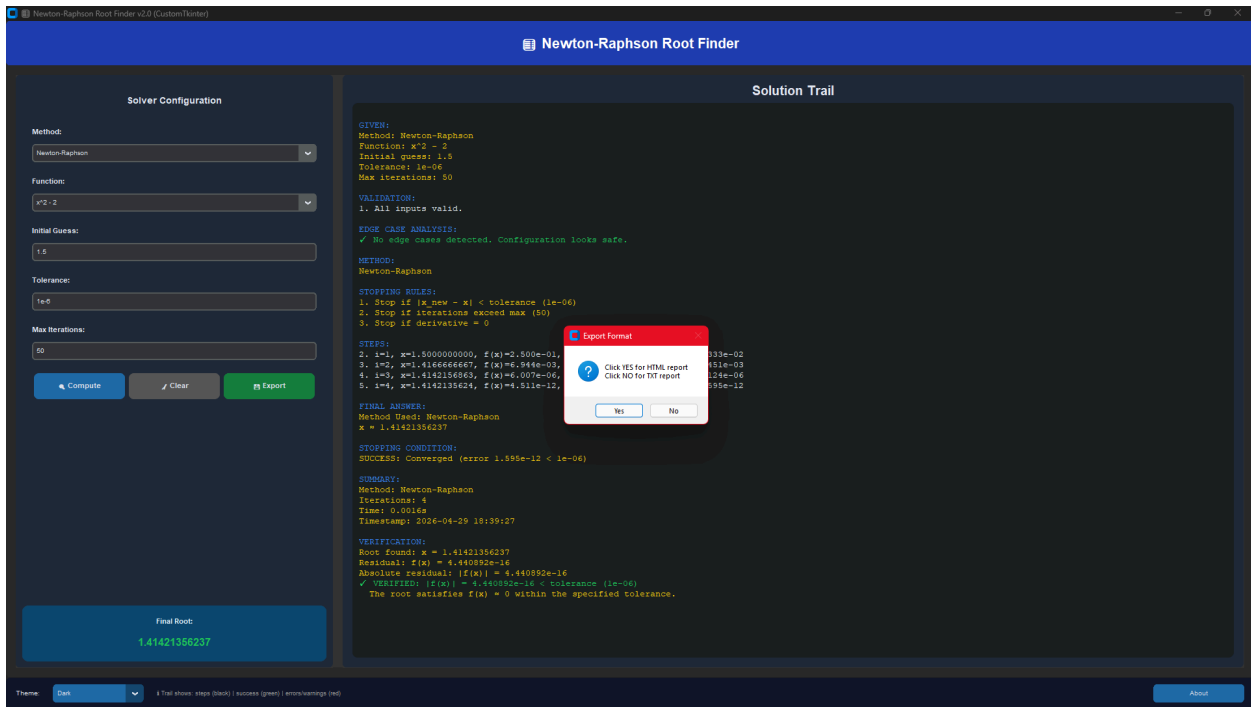

- ☐ Screenshot: export success message
- ☐ Attach: 2 exported report files

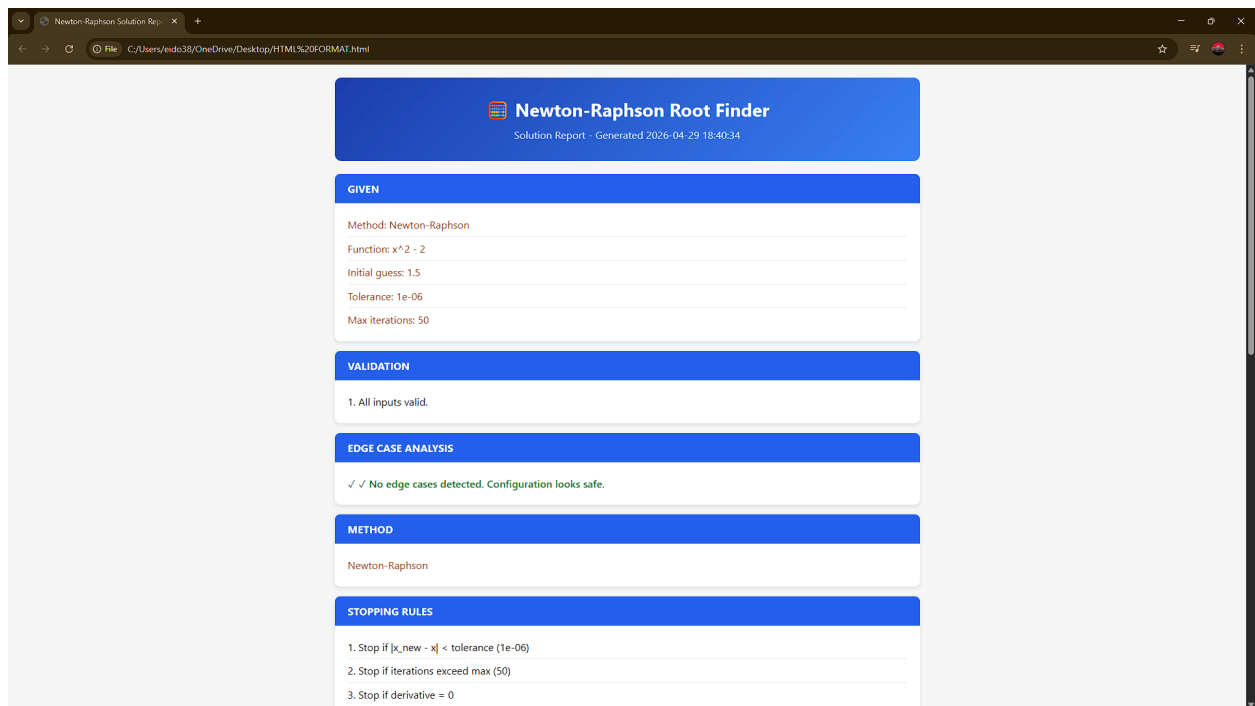

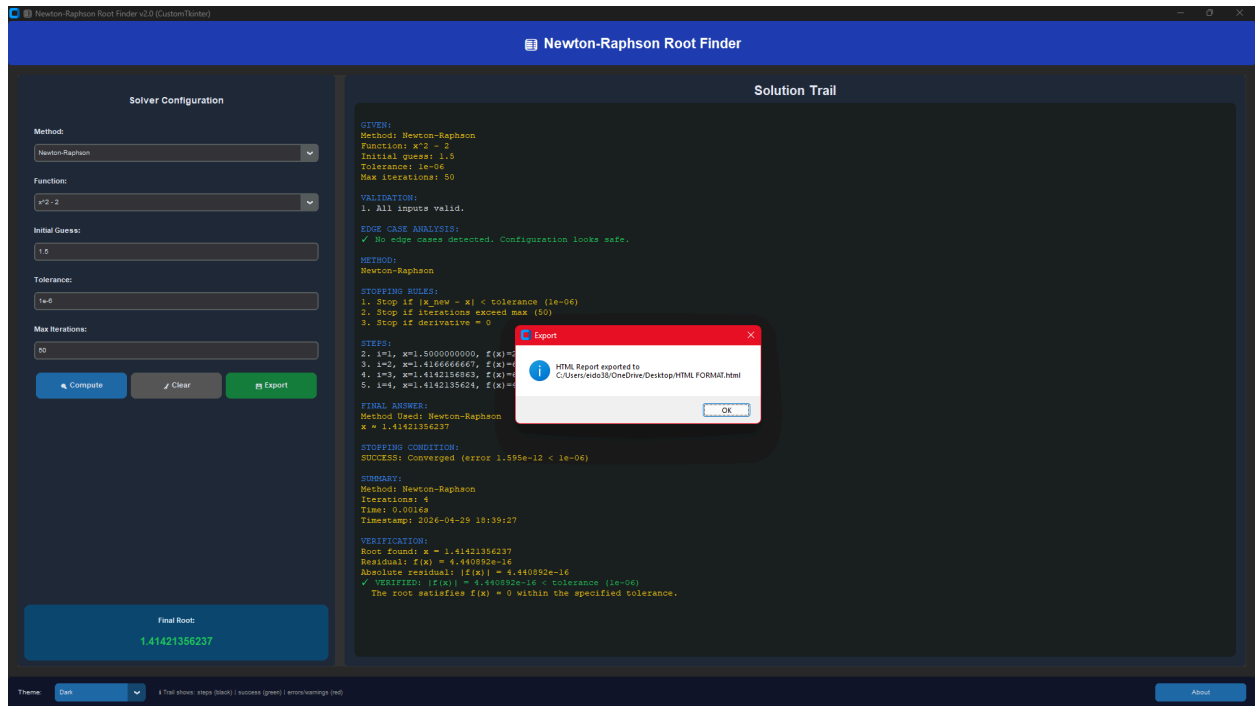

Reflection (Write short answers)

- What information must always be included in exported reports?

STEPS

2. i=1, x=1.5000000000, f(x)=2.500e-01, x_next=1.4166666667, err=8.333e-02
3. i=2, x=1.4166666667, f(x)=6.944e-03, x_next=1.4142156863, err=2.451e-03
4. i=3, x=1.4142156863, f(x)=6.007e-06, x_next=1.4142135624, err=2.124e-06
5. i=4, x=1.4142135624, f(x)=4.511e-12, x_next=1.4142135624, err=1.595e-12

FINAL ANSWER

Method Used: Newton-Raphson
x = 1.41421356237

STOPPING CONDITION

✓ SUCCESS: Converged (error 1.595e-12 < 1e-06)

VERIFICATION

Root found: x = 1.41421356237
Residual: f(x) = 4.440892e-16
Absolute residual: |f(x)| = 4.440892e-16
✓ ✓ VERIFIED: |f(x)| = 4.440892e-16 < tolerance (1e-06)
The root satisfies f(x) = 0 within the specified tolerance.

Reflection

What information must always be included in exported reports?

Exported reports must always include the complete and structured solution trail to ensure that the results are clear. At a minimum, the report should present the given, which outlines all known values and important details of the problem, then by the method, where the approach, formula, or technique used to solve the problem is explained. It should then include the steps, showing the detailed, step-by-step process of how the solution was derived so that others can easily follow the logic. The final answer must be clearly stated to highlight the result, and this should be supported by a verification section that checks or proves the correctness of the solution. Lastly, a summary should be provided to briefly restate the findings and reinforce the overall conclusion. Including all of these components ensures that the exported report is complete, understandable, and useful for future reference or evaluation.
